ClearView appoints new Chief Risk Officer

Listed financial services company, ClearView Wealth Limited has appointed former NAB Executive General Manager of Enterprise Controls Performance, Cloe Reece, as the group's Chief Risk Officer.

Prior to NAB, Ms Reece held senior risk and compliance roles at Westpac, ANZ and the Commonwealth Bank, including Group Head of Three Lines of Defence at Westpac and Head of Risk and Compliance, Superannuation, Investments, Platforms and Operations at BT Financial Group.

At ClearView, Ms Reece will lead the Group Risk and Compliance team, oversee risk management operations and continue building the group's strong risk culture.

She will report to ClearView Managing Director, Simon Swanson.

"Effective risk management is the cornerstone of any organisation's long term success and I am pleased to have Cloe on board to oversee ClearView's risk management operations and ensure strong risk practices are embedded across the organisation," Mr Swanson said.

"Over the past few years, ClearView has invested significantly in governance and risk management, and we remain committed to strengthening our risk management framework and achieving a stronger risk culture."

Ms Reece said: "Initiatives to strengthen consumer protections and continuously improve systems and processes are front of mind at ClearView, and I look forward to supporting Simon and his team to help achieve the group's strategic priorities and, most importantly, deliver great outcomes for customers."

Ms Reece has over 25 years' of industry experience. Her qualifications include a Masters of Business Administration, Bachelor of Commerce and Graduate Diploma of Applied Finance and Investment.
